

The Court Cases Information System (COCIS) provides a web based common platform to all the stake holders including Advocate General Office,

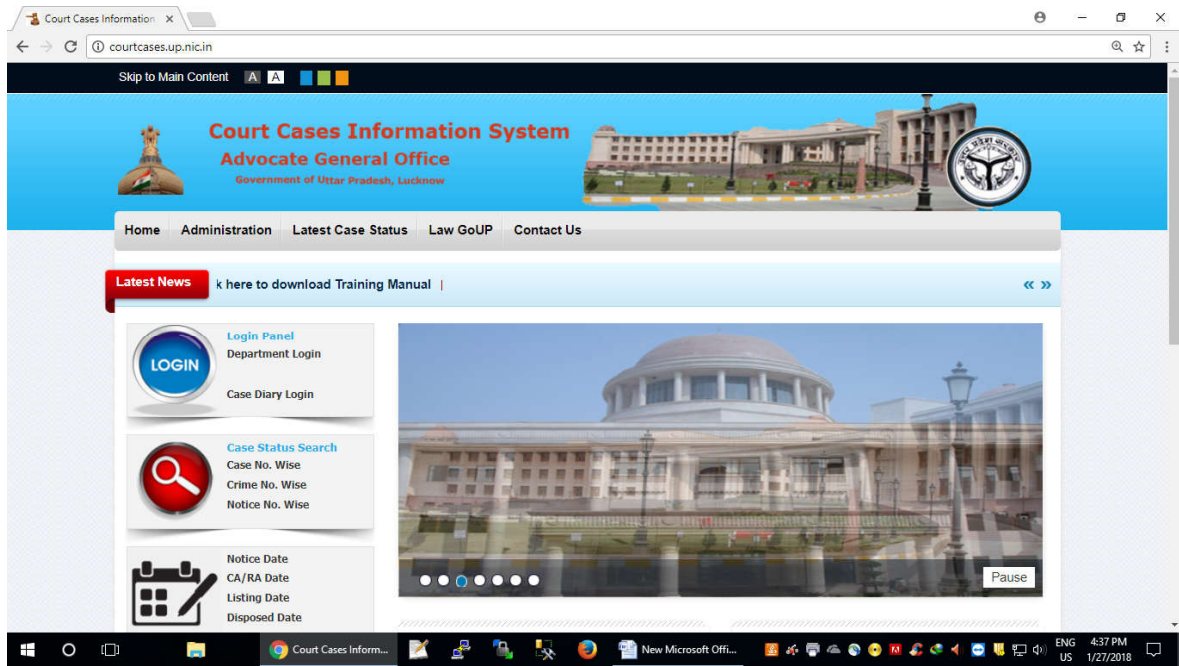

High Court, State Government Department and the Petitioner. To introduce transparency in the system and ensure speedier disposal of cases various features of information technology have been adopted. Discussions were carried out with the different stake holders to put in place a simple and effective MIS that could benefit all. Wherever possible, manual processes were replaced with electronic processes and policies were adopted to have a more stringent monitoring mechanism.

All the notices are received and the details are entered at computerized counters of AG Office. The application supports automatic generation of notice number followed by automatic sending of short message through SMS and email to the concerned department. The Nodal Officer of the concerned department is supposed to take necessary action related to the notice/court case.

He is also responsible for checking the details of fresh, daily & supplementary case lists.

The details of contempt cases and other important cases are also available on the website.

Type the following address <http://courtcases.up.nic.in> on any web browser the following page will be displayed.
